

50 FUN ACTIVITIES TO DO WITH YOUR GRANDCHILDREN

50 THINGS TO DO WITH YOUR GRANDCHILDREN

1. Set up a lemonade stand. Make unusual flavors like apple lemonade and pineapple lemonade along with the traditional favorite.
2. Stare at clouds. Make up stories about what you see.
3. Make one super-duper ice-cream sundae — don't forget the whipped cream, cherries, and two spoons.
4. Scope out populated parking lots for state license plates. Keep a list and try to find all 50.
5. Go on a nature walk, pointing out bugs, trees, birds, and butterflies. Bring binoculars.
6. Build a birdhouse or bird feeder.
7. Paint watercolor portraits of each other — the sillier the better.
8. Ride bicycles to someplace new or show your grandchildren around your neighborhood.
9. Check out a book from the library, and take turns reading chapters out loud .
10. Go on a picnic, even if you travel no farther than your backyard. Set out a blanket, and bring portable music and a Frisbee.
11. Decorate T-shirts. You'll need two plain white 50/50 polyester-cotton tees, fabric paint, brushes, and shake-on glitter, rhinestones, buttons, or other embellishments.
12. Teach your grandchild a hobby you love: crocheting, guitar, woodworking, cooking, etc.
13. Take photos of each other posing at local landmarks and even just places you like.
14. Build an outdoor tepee from old sheets and a few poles.
15. Go to a museum exhibit you've never seen. The more unknown to both of you, the better*.
16. Tour your local firehouse. Call ahead to make arrangements; ask if your grandchild will be allowed to climb on a fire truck or sit inside and steer.
17. Make up a story, taking turns one sentence at a time. You start the story, then your grandchild continues it, you take over again, then he does, until you have an ending.
18. Make puppets with socks and markers, and put on an outdoor show.
19. Spread out an old sheet on the grass and paint your hearts out.

20. Pick strawberries, peaches, and raspberries from a pick-your-own farm. Bake a pie with your purchases.
21. Fold homemade paper airplanes and see whose goes the farthest.*
22. Put on your bathing suits and run through a sprinkler in the backyard.
23. Go out on a photo scavenger hunt using the ideas on the sheets at the back of this booklet.*
(Sheet 1 for younger children / sheet 2 for older children)
24. Break out the sidewalk chalk to play hopscotch or draw designs on the sidewalk or driveway.
25. Make a playground for a bug with glue, cardboard, and found objects
26. Plant flowers or vegetables in your garden or in a window box and let the grandchildren get dirty.
27. Wash your car; wear swimsuits.
28. Fire up the barbecue grill and do a family cookout. Don't forget the chocolate, graham crackers, and marshmallows for s'mores.
29. Fly a kite.
30. Make your own ice cream. Web site for ideas is in the back of the booklet.*
31. Play "volleyball" with a balloon.
32. Go camping — your local woods, a scenic campsite, or your backyard.
33. Play miniature golf.
34. Blow bubbles. When you run out of liquid that comes with the wands, use the recipe in the back of this booklet.*
35. Teach your grandchild to play marbles.
36. Visit the newest baby animals at the zoo. Buy ice cream to celebrate the births.
37. Get pedicures.
38. Pluck a thin, flat blade of grass. Stick one end between the tips of your thumbs and the other between your thumb heels. Straighten your thumbs out gradually until the grass is taut, pucker up and blow so that the air makes the grass vibrate, producing that high-pitched, piercing whistle. If that doesn't work, try two blades.
39. Have a board-game tournament on the lawn.
40. Go rowboating or canoeing.
41. Get the schedule for local outdoor concerts and theatre and bring the grandchildren.

42. Go bowling
43. Take a field trip to Lark Toys and ride the carousel.*
44. Browse a garage sale, giving your grandchild a few dollars to spend.
45. Get yourselves to a county fair and try out something new.
46. Go to a farmer's market, making a salad with what you get.
47. Play 20 Questions on your next car ride.
48. Show your grandchildren how fun it is to shuck corn. Eat all that corn you shucked. Typewriter style.
Chomp chomp chomp. Ding!
49. Have a porch-side tea party with your good china, aromatic tea like raspberry or mint, and muffins or scones.
50. Keep a scrapbook so you'll both remember all the special things you did together.
